FROM THE DESIGNER

Daniela Butler
Design Manager

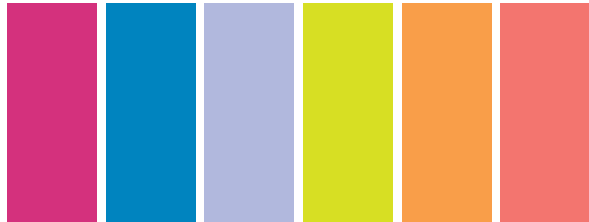

We know cheer teams value individuality, which is why we are determined to produce supremely functional, yet fashion-forward styles. This year we combined playful details with performance attributes to give our customers the best of both worlds. We tirelessly study street fashion, retail trends and high-fashion runways to bring you on-trend colors, prints and design lines to create a distinctive look in our new collections. Finally, when we design pieces we make certain our styles can be embellished and personalized so each team can create its own unique identity. We are thrilled about our 2015 collection because we are confident we have struck the ideal balance between athletic performance pieces and fashion, making every cheerleader proud to wear GTM.
